

Knowledge and Expertise

we solve business technology challenges

In the fast paced world of technology innovation, our specialist consultants bring extensive experience to C-level executive teams and other stakeholders.

Envisian consultants are available for long-term or short-term assignments to boost in-house IT teams or take the lead on specific projects. We are the perfect full-time or part-time resource when you need to:

- Plan/manage a technology transition or a business transformation
- Integrate new technologies into your business, including Cloud
- Expand internal knowledge and expertise to solve/troubleshoot a critical challenge
- Drill into a technology to optimise its performance

We are solution driven, seasoned professionals. We bring new ideas and a different perspective, shaped by diverse environments and circumstances.

Over the past decade, we have built a wide network of reliable, professional people and continue to grow that network daily through established contacts and regular interviewing and screening of new entrants.

When on-site, our consultants are provided executive support and periodic peer review, to ensure they deliver quality and efficient results. On each assignment you have the full commitment and backing of the Envisian senior team.

Envisian consultants provide strategic leadership, program management, project delivery, best practices and standards, as well as finely-honed, specific technical expertise in architecture, standards, network, storage, virtualisation and database.
